 This is coffee-free and it would be a great choice for kids. After drinking it, I would say that it was more milky than fruity, with a pleasant tart flavour. It was nice but not very delicious. I would love to see more fruity drinks at Starbucks such as bananas.</center>

<h2>Ingredients: </h2>

 1 cup ice

    cup water

    1/2 cups strawberries

    cup vanilla ice cream

    1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract or vanilla syrup

    Whipped Cream (optional)

<h2>How Is It Made?</h2>

Preparing the puree sauce is the first step to making a strawberry creme frappuccino Starbucks drink. Here is how to make the strawberry puree.To make This frappuccino in a blender, you'll need to add:Strawberry syrup, Milk, Ice, Vanilla ice cream .Then, blend all the ingredients until you get a smooth structure. Start on low and gradually turn it up. Add Greek yogurt for an extra creamy texture.Strawberry cream frappuccino usually has whipped cream on top, but you can have a delicious homemade cream frappuccino without the whipped cream too. Furthermore, you can make a cotton candy frappuccino if you like raspberry syrup. Pour the blended drink into a tall glass and top with whipped cream. Put a tablespoon of strawberry sauce on top for decoration.No more worrying about how to order a strawberry frappuccino at Starbucks. Instead, make this copycat strawberry frappuccino recipe. Our testing shows that it's almost endlessly customizable, so you can continue experimenting with different ingredients (such as various kinds of milk). Let your imagination do the work!

Plus, get most ingredients at the store whenever you feel lazy and have them on hand when the strawberry frappuccino craving hits you. Or use the best of your inspiration to make the frappuccino from scratch and flex your barista skills.
